

At the 11th hour, on the 11th day of the 11th month in 1918, the guns of war finally fell silent after over four years of brutal fighting, which left millions dead, wounded and broken in spirit. The Great War was so horrific that many were convinced it would be "The war to end all wars". Canadian and Newfoundland soldiers could now return home and pick up the pieces of their lives, which would be forever changed.
